

SUMMER SCHOOL ICS-ULISBOA | 2020

Research Methods on Corruption and Corruption Control Analysis (CORAN)

24/25 SEPTEMBER
2020 ZOOM PLATFORM
(ONLINE)

PRICE TABLE

Non-refundable administration deposit*

30€

Tuition fee

60€

* To be deducted from the total tuition fee.

COORDINATORS

Felippe Clemente (ICS-ULisboa)
Luís de Sousa (ICS-ULisboa)

VENUE

ICS-ULisboa, Lisbon, Portugal

DATE

24 – 25 September

SCHEDULE

09:30h - 11:30h and 13:30h - 17:30h

LANGUAGE

English

ECTS

3 ECTS

REQUIREMENTS

Working knowledge of English (written and spoken)
Degree in social sciences, economics and management studies, law, humanities or related subjects
Basic computer skills

OBJECTIVES

Make students aware of the diversity of methodological options available to approach the study of corruption, their specificities and limitations and to understand the logic and suitability of different methods of enquiry. By advancing students' knowledge on these different methodological approaches and techniques we seek to help them obtain a more nuanced understanding of how such a complex normative issue, with social, economic, cultural, institutional and political implications can be studied.

TARGETS

Master, doctoral and postdoctoral students, law enforcement officials, journalists and NGO activists working in the field of anti-corruption.

DAY 1, THURSDAY, 24/9

Morning Session (Zoom Platform)

9:00 Welcome address

Felippe Clemente and Luís de Sousa

9:15h - 10:15h Session I

Survey methods applied to the study of corruption

Guest-speaker

Pedro Magalhães (ICS-ULisboa)

10:30 - 11:30 Session II

Institutional mapping analysis and interviewing techniques

Guest-speaker

Luís de Sousa

Afternoon session (Zoom Platform)

13:30-14:30 Session III

Experimental methods

Guest-speaker

Isabel Pinto (UPorto)

14:45-15:45 Session IV

Conjoint experiments

Guest-speaker

Miguel Pereira (ICS-ULisboa)

16:30-17:30 Session V

Improving survey questionnaire through focus groups

Guest-speakers

Luís de Sousa
and Felippe Clemente

Day 2, Friday, 25/9

Morning session (Zoom Platform)

9:15-10:15 Session VI

Simulation method: A Game Theory approach

Guest-speaker

Felippe Clemente

10:30-11:30 Session VII

Statistical methods applied to the study of corruption

Guest-speakers

Edalina Sanches (ICS-ULisboa)
and/or Jorge Fernandes (ICS-ULisboa)

Afternoon session (Zoom Platform)

13:30-17:30 Panel I

Research Projects and Research Papers

Contente and teachers

Presentation and discussion of accepted research projects and papers